

International Society of Precision Agriculture

Become an ISPA Member

Becoming an International Society of Precision Agriculture (ISPA) member gives you many opportunities to attend events and network with professionals in precision agriculture while saving money. Learn more about society benefits and how to become a member at:

ispag.org/Membership

SCAN ME

Exchange and gain knowledge of PA innovations and applications through participation in annual conferences, webinars, and electronic access to the society's Precision Agriculture Journal.

Develop and strengthen relationships with PA industry representatives taking part in ISPA sponsored events.

Expand your network of PA collaborators and mentors through engagement/interaction during face-to-face and online ISPA sponsored events.

Increase access to PA educational materials and expert knowledge.

Increase awareness of PA adoption and applications, research activities and PA events globally through the monthly ISPA newsletter.

Increase education & research opportunities by becoming a country representative.

Join Us:

ISPA members can join communities on their “My Account” page on the website. To learn more, visit:

ispag.org/Communities/Community_Guidance