

International Society of Precision Agriculture

Become an ISPA Member

Becoming an International Society of Precision Agriculture (ISPA) member gives you many opportunities to attend events and network with professionals in precision agriculture while saving money. Learn more about society benefits and how to become a member at:

ispag.org/Membership/Benefits

Exchange and gain knowledge of PA innovations and application through participation in conferences, webinars, and ISPA sponsored events.

Expand your network of PA collaborators and mentors with ISPA's online Membership Directory.

Increase awareness of PA adoption and applications, research activities and PA events globally through the monthly ISPA newsletter.

Society engagement

Your vote in membership elections and feedback on surveys shape the future of ISPA.

Gain access to the society's Precision Agriculture Journal – an international journal on advances in precision agriculture.

Increase education & research

Members have the opportunity to join ISPA Communities and become a Country Representative.

Join Us:

To learn more about the International Society of Precision Agriculture and to become a member, please visit:

ispag.org

